SILVER MINE DISCOVERED ON LAKE SUPERIOR.—The Hon. Truman Smith, agent of the New York Mining Company, of Lake Superior, announces a new and important discovery in the mines belonging to that company. Mr. Smith has brought specimens to New York, one of which yielded at the rate of 56 ounces of silver to 100 lbs. of ore; another of the rate of 40 ounces to the 100 lbs.

THE TOBACCO CROP.—Extract from a letter dated Lynchburg, Va., October 5: "We had on last Thursday night, (29th Sept.) quite a severe frost, and again on Monday night, both doing a great deal of damage to the tobacco crop; in all low and frosty places it is destroyed, and much injured generally. It has caused some advance in leaf tobacco here, and will no doubt cause all to hold their manufactured tobacco, that are able to do so."

THE SUNDAY QUESTION.—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has sustained the judgment of the lower Court in the case of Henry Omit, an inn keeper at Harrisburg, who was adjudged to pay fine and cost on a conviction of having sold liquor on the Sabbath day. The Court decided that the Act of Assembly forbidding worldly employment on Sunday, does not exempt the sale of liquor by an innkeeper to a sojourner on Sunday, but such sale is within the prohibition of the act; and further that a license to sell liquors by small measures for a year does not confer the right to sell on Sundays.

SPANISH SLAVERY IN CUBA.—A Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Gazette says: Reliable intelligence received here from Madrid, apprizes us that the British scheme of negro emancipation in Cuba is being pressed again with great pertinacity—the British emissaries fearing that the arrival of Mr. Soule may interfere with their operations. I have reason to believe that if any positive steps are initiated to bring about this Africanization of Cuba, the Administration here will make opportunity to interfere in the matter. Meanwhile Mr. Soule probably is instructed to throw no impediment in the way of the progress of the scheme.

FINE STOCK.—A gentleman of Illinois came passenger on the Cincinnati this morning. He had a Durham calf, and a sheep of Superior Saxony, or Lhavarian breed. We understand that he paid $1000 for the latter. They were purchased in Kentucky.—St. Louis News.

ERICSSON'S VESSEL.—But little has been said of this invention for some time. The Mechanical Magazine for September gives the reason. The inventor has been remodeling many parts of the machinery, with the view of adding to the same greater power, though the original principle is still retained.

THE PRESIDENT'S NEW POLICY.—The following facts show, according to the New York Journal of Commerce, that the present Executive has adopted, in the latest manner, the new policy of appropriating the public lands—the policy of appropriating them for the purpose of internal improvement. Lands lying within fifteen miles of the route of the proposed railroad from Brandon, in Mississippi, to Montgomery, in Alabama, which were advertised for sale or entry, are now withdrawn, as the official advertisement states, "in consequence of urgent representations in behalf of the interests of said railroad"—for the present, and until the pleasure of Congress can be ascertained in regard to a grant of public lands in aid of constructing it.

A sale of thorough bred short horned cattle, recently imported from England, took place at London, Madison county, Ohio, on the 27th ult. Fifteen bulls brought an average of $1,200; two of them sold at $1,500; two of $1,000 each. Five cows sold at $600 to $1,300. Twenty-five Leicester sheep averaged $60 each. A Suffolk hog sold at $200.

SILVER IN NEW MEXICO.—The recent discoveries of silver in New Mexico begin to attract attention. It is thought by many that the supply of silver in New Mexico, will go far to equalize the quantities of gold and silver in California and Australia, and restore the relative value of the two metals in coin.

SOME of our Yankee fishermen make complaint of the little protection afforded them by the United States fishing squadron which has just returned home. The fishermen declare that they have frequently been driven out to sea by the British cruisers, in the most tempestuous weather, and in direct violation of treaty stipulations; also, that the American squadron, instead of going to and remaining upon the fishing grounds, merely visited the principal provincial ports, and when wanted could not be found, though seriously searched for. These are rather serious charges.

Advices from the city of Mexico on the 13th ult., announce that the Indians still continue their ravages in Durango and Chihuahua. The savages, finding that the government is either too weak or too indolent to protect the people, are becoming more bold, and threaten, with a fair prospect of success, to drive the whites entirely out from the sparsely settled districts of those States.

The treasurer's receipts at the New York State Fair, were this year only about $6,000, being less than the expenses. The location was bad, the weather bad, and the receipts very bad.

For the Kentucky Tribune.

MESSRS. EDITORS:
Permit me, through the columns of your paper, to make a mention to what I saw at our fair on the day of the horse show. The ball was opened, first by the exhibition of blooded Stallions, and to my astonishment Kentucky was not represented, nothing appearing in the ring except Boyd McNairy, a most gallant looking horse from Tennessee. Many supposed it to be Grey Eagle, a favorite son of Kentucky—but I immediately perceived it was not Eagle, from the fact of his having more size and general length. Take him all in all, he is certainly a most magnificent animal, in point of action, gait and style, he certainly has few equals in America, and supposing the adage to be true, that like produces like, he must certainly prove a most valuable acquisition to Kentucky. I beg also to be permitted to allude to our older acquaintance, Imported Belshazzar, who came to our State in the spring of 1852. Having arrived late, he made not a very large season, as I understand. He was exhibited last fall, and was awarded the premium, being considered the finest Stallion. The decision being against a favorite son of our State, it caused some murmuring, but since our more intimate acquaintance with him, there seems to be no difference of opinion, that he was justly entitled to the prize. He is, no doubt, the finest English Stallion in America. He is a horse of large size—being over 16 hands high—of the most rich, bloodlike appearance. And now a few remarks as to his get: Although I have for many years been engaged in looking at, and dealing in blooded stock, I must agree that I am fully persuaded in my mind that I never beheld such a lot of colts as those exhibited at our show. They possessed all the size we could desire, and for polish, bloodlike appearance, beauty and action, they can't be beat in America. In speaking of the colts, I heard it remarked by several who were at the Lexington fair, that they were manifestly superior to those shown at Lexington. The citizens of Boyle, and the adjoining counties are under the most weighty obligations to Major S. Davenport, for procuring the services of so valuable an animal as Imported Belshazzar. We see from the account of the races at Nashville, Tenn., that his get has been victorious over the get of some of the best stallions in America. And are we to lose the services of this most valuable stallion? It has been whispered in our community that several of the most noted gentlemen on the north side of the river, desire his services at their stables during the spring of 1854. I say, why fold our arms? Let us rally, and secure the services of just such a horse, as will richly reimburse all who patronize him. A BREEDER.

THE Boston Atlas says no fancy stock was ever declining faster, in the estimation of brokers, than is the Administration of President Pierce in the estimation of the public. The "bears" are having it all their own way in the political market; with this description of stock, if the downward tendency continues for a few months longer the "bulls" will be compelled to withdraw it from the board of brokers.

CRUISES.—In digging a well for the use of the Pacific Railroad Company, at Franklin, Mo., a few days since, at the distance of thirty feet below the surface of the earth, the men came upon large lumps of trees, which seem to have been here for ages. The soil in which they were found was black and rich, and had a strange and offensive smell. Until recently, where Franklin is now located, was covered with immense forest trees, which must have been growing for many years.

EIGHT RAILROADS.—Indianapolis will in two or three weeks have eight railroads in operation, running to nearly every point of the compass, viz:—The Madison and Indianapolis Railroad; Lawrenceburg and Indianapolis Railroad; Jeffersonville and Indianapolis Railroad; Louisville and Indianapolis Railroad; Central Railroad; Peru and Indianapolis Railroad; Lafayette and Indianapolis Railroad; Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad. These are all now running except one, and that is finished with the exception of laying six or seven miles of track.

ASHLAND.—We learn from the Franklin Commonwealth that Ashland never belonged to Daniel Boone; nor, did it ever belong to Col. Nathaniel G. Hart, who fell at the river Raisin. It certainly did not descend from him to Mrs. Clay. The disastrous battle of the river Raisin was fought in January, 1813; Henry Clay owned Ashland seven or eight years at least before that time. The truth, respecting Ashland, as near as it can be ascertained from gentlemen who remember the place for nearly fifty years, is that it was originally a part of the Todd and Mansfield entries, that Mr. Clay purchased it himself at an early day—say between 1800 and 1806.

EFFECTS OF EMANIPATION.—Mr. Wood, late Governor of Ohio, on his way to Valparaiso, touched at Jamaica, and formed rather an unfavorable opinion of the effects of the abolition of slavery on that island. He says: "We saw on many plantations, the buildings dilapidated; fields of sugar-cane half worked, and apparently poor, and nothing but that which will grow without labor of men appeared luxuriant and flourishing. The island itself is of great fertility, and one of the best of the Antilles; but all the large estates upon it are now fast going to ruin. In the harbor there were not a dozen ships of all nations; no business was doing, and everything you heard spoken was in the language of complaint. Since the blacks have been liberated they have become indolent, degraded and dishonest. They are a rude, beastly set of vagabonds, lying naked about the streets, as filthy as the Hottentots, and I believe, worse."

Lamarine has accepted, from the Porte an annual pension of $2,441 for twenty years, in consideration of relinquishing the grant of a large tract of land, which was made on the supposition that he would become a Mahometan.

THE ERICSSON ENGINE IN FRANCE.—A Paris correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette makes the following mention of the favor with which the Ericsson invention is regarded in France: "The Ericsson machine, sent over to this country, by the inventor, to be tried here by scientific men, appointed by this government, although a very rude and imperfect structure, has at length been put into operation at Havre, and the results have not only sustained its reputation, but created an enthusiasm unparalleled in the history of inventions. A long official report, portions of which have been published, is about to be made to the government, which speaks of the invention in the most eulogistic terms. Certain principles demonstrated in the passing of air through the wire heaters, they pronounce entirely new, and never before thought of—which is a literal admission for scientific Frenchmen, and a great compliment to Capt. Ericsson."

The Washington National Monument has now reached a height of 142 feet. A stone sent from Utah has been received in Washington. It is similar to Bath stone, and not very hard. The proper name of the Territory, Utah, does not appear among the devices engraved upon it, but in its stead appears the name "Deseret," the Swiss Confederation, presented by the Swiss Confederation, is already rusting out. The Tennessee marble sent to the Monument, proves so superior in hardness, durability and polish, that it is contemplated to use this stone for the interior facings and decorations of the Capitol extensions.

Gov. Lane, of Oregon, and Lieut. Alden, of the army, were both wounded in an engagement with the Rogue River Indians—the latter severely. The battle with the Indians, in which General Lane and Col. Allen were wounded, took place in Rogue River Valley on the 27th of August. Ninety whites and two hundred and fifty Indians were engaged. The skirmish lasted four hours, when the Indian chief Sam proffered an armistice, which was granted. Ten Indians were killed and 30 wounded; whites, 3 killed and 8 wounded. Among the killed is Captain Armstrong. The Indians continued outrages at other points.

LATE FROM CALIFORNIA.

New York, Oct. 10.
The Star of the West arrived from San Juan yesterday, bringing California dates to the 17th ult., received by the Cortez. Bigler's majority for Governor was only one thousand. The majority of the remainder of the Democratic ticket was from four to ten thousand. Garrison (Democratic) was elected mayor of San Francisco. The whole Democratic city and county ticket was elected. Both branches of the Legislature are largely Democratic.

The people of San Francisco have adopted the revised charter. Gov. Bigler carried the city and county of San Francisco by nine votes. Dates from Honolulu are to the 13th of August. The small pox was raging terribly. Advice from Honolulu state that a strong political movement had been commenced, compelling the Government to discharge Ministers Judd and Armstrong. A memorial, signed by 13,000 persons, had been presented to the Legislature to that effect, giving indications of a revolution.

An attempt was made at San Francisco to sell the State's interest in the water lots in contempt of an injunction from the Superior Court. One lot was knocked down, when Mr. Selover, the auctioneer, and the whole Board of Commissioners were arrested.

The express box of Adams & Co., containing $25,000 in specie, was stolen from the stage between Sonora and Jackson.

Central Kentucky Fair.

The Stock, Agricultural and Mechanical Exhibition held near this place last week, was throughout as interesting and as largely attended as on the first two days, (which we noticed in our last paper.) The exhibition of Stock on Thursday and Friday called out a splendid display of fine animals, equal in point of numbers and superiority to any ever shown in the State. The fact is fully established, that in the raising of fine stock, Central Kentucky enjoys as much pre-eminence as she does in many other particular. On Friday, which was devoted to the exhibition of Horses, the number of spectators in attendance was thought to be considerably larger than on any previous occasion during the Fair.

On Thursday a very elegant and appropriate address of a few moments length was delivered by Hon. J. J. Crittenden, which course was listened to with that attention which a talented public favorite as Mr. C. can always command.

We publish in another part of our paper a complete list of the premiums awarded during the exhibition.

VALUABLE BOOKS.—JOS. ARNOLD DIXON has on hand for sale four large bound volumes of the "Working Farmer," a highly valuable publication.

The Premium Hat.

We have the pleasure to announce that the beautiful silk hat, manufactured by these clever gentlemen and superior workmen, Messrs. Brown & Co., of Harrodsburg, which received a premium at our recent Fair, is now our property. It is, without doubt, the handsomest and best finished hat we have ever seen. Such a combination of style and price, and such a combination of quality and price, is a combination which we have never before seen. Call at his shop and see them.

PREMIUMS ON KENTUCKY.—This body is now in session in our town. A large number of ministers and elders are in attendance. The opening sermon was preached on Wednesday evening last, before a large congregation, by Rev. J. D. MATTHEWS, of Henderson, Ky.

The present session of the Synod, we understand, is expected to be longer than usual, as much important and interesting business will be brought before it.

The premium Dugressotypes exhibited at our late Fair by Mr. Cox, are splendid specimens of the art. Call at Mr. Cox's gallery and examine them.

BREXLEY'S PLUMES.—The celebrated Plumes manufactured by Mr. T. E. C. BREXLEY, of Simpsonville, Shelby Co., Ky., and exhibited at our recent Fair, seem to be highly popular with the farmers of this and other sections of the State. His plumes for stable use certainly are the best of the kind ever made in Kentucky, judging from the number of premiums they have received, and the rapidity with which they are sold. We understand that he sold about twenty-five of them on the second day of the fair at this place, in addition to the large number which were already in use in this section. His plumes for ground use are equally valuable.

Mr. B. has a "clean sweep" at the Danville Fair, taking both premiums and certificates of plumes and wagons.

Mr. G. S. Salzer, of Garrard, received the premium on match Mules at the Paris Fair.

HOGS.—The Louisville Democrat says there has been considerable excitement throughout the country during the past week in regard to Hogs. It is said that about 10,000 head were sold in Nelson county at $3.25 to $3.50 gross.

HON. ARTHUR DIXON.—The Henderson Courier last Saturday announces that this gentleman, if his health permit, will be a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

A corps of Engineers are in the field surveying the route for the railroad from Louisville to Knoxville. They were in Marion county last week.

The next Legislature of Kentucky is to assemble on the 21st day of December.

We have not received the Harrodsburg Ploughing this week. What's the matter?

LOUISVILLE FAIR.—The Southwest Fair commenced near Louisville on Tuesday last. The first day's exhibition is reported by the Courier to have been very large and elegant. The number of persons in attendance on Tuesday is estimated by that paper at 20,000. We find the following in the list of premiums awarded on the first day:

Wanted quilt, 1 entry; Mrs. Joseph Weisger, of Garrard, premium, Miss E. B. C. Hoskins, of Garrard, 2nd do.

Dimity, Miss E. B. C. Hoskins, special premium of $200 each.

Southwestern Railroad.

By reference to a list of appointments which we publish to-day, it will be seen that Gen. LESLIE COMBS is expected to address the citizens of this county at the Court house on Monday evening next, the 17th inst., at 7 o'clock, on the subject of the extension of the Lexington and Danville Railroad south to McMinnville, Tenn. The General will also address the people at various points on the proposed road during the coming week.

The proposed extension is an important scheme, and we are glad that there is now such a fair prospect of its being made. Its friends in the counties south of this are and have been very active and energetic in their endeavors to place its construction beyond the possibility of failure and we rejoice with them at the probabilities of their complete success. We trust that not a great while will elapse, ere they will find themselves possessors of access to the best markets in the country, by means of this road, which will give them a connection with the chief cities of the North and South.

We notice that the chief engineer of the Lexington and Danville Railroad has already issued an invitation for proposals for the graduation of the first division of the road. This Division extends from Danville to Columbia, in Adair county, a distance of 45 miles, through a country very favorable for the operations of contractors.

EUROPEAN AFFAIRS.—The latest dates from Europe are to the 24th ult. No settlement has taken place in regard to the Turkish and Russian affairs, and the aspect of the difficulty was regarded as threatening. The Turks are said to be roused, and some call upon the Sultan to declare war or abdicate the throne.

GEORGIA ELECTIONS.—The vote for Governor at the recent election is close. In 45 counties Jenkins (Whig) has 999 majority—a gain of 2,500. It is thought, however, pretty certain that Johnson (Dem.) has been elected by a few hundred votes.

Railroad Items.

The Nashville Eagle of last week, says the laying of the rails on the Lexington road commenced at Mayville some days since, and was progressing steadily. At the Lexington end, the track laying is progressing half a mile per day, and would reach Paris in two or three weeks. The Louisville Courier says that the first passenger train on the road commenced running a few days since making trips from Mayville to "Dobyn's Place"—a suburban settlement just entered from among the sycamore shades and poplar berry bushes.

The Lexington Messenger contains a communication proposing public meeting to organize a company and make application for a charter for a Branch Railroad, from that place to intersect the Mayville and Lexington Road, at a point about four and a half miles distant from Lexington. It is understood the Mayville and Lexington Railroad will make a liberal subscription to stock to such a branch.

Richard Apperson, Esq., the President of the Lexington and Big Sandy Railroad, addressed the citizens of Clarksville, Tenn., on Friday night.

We presume that Mr. Apperson is on the look out for Southern connections with his road.

The engineers have been engaged in ascertaining the best line for a railroad from Newport to Mayville, Kentucky, to connect with the roads already under contract from Covington to Louisville, and Lexington, south, and the eastern route to terminate at Mayville.

ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The New York Journal of Commerce says that the books of subscription to the capital stock of this road were opened on Thursday, at the Metropolitan Hotel. In the course of the day $20,500,000 (twenty millions) were subscribed by fifty-one individuals. This, with the sum previously subscribed, makes a total, thus far, of $20,000,000. The books will be closed for about a fortnight and then reopened, when there will be a chance to subscribe for the remaining $60,500,000, making the total capital $100,000,000.

YELLOW FEVER.—The fever at last accounts was still rapidly abating at New Orleans. On the 27th ult., the number of interments in the city were 32—12 of fever. The epidemic was also declining at Vicksburg and other points, but the accounts from Montgomery, Ala., Milton, Fla., Port Gibson, Miss., and Washington, La., are all ominous favorable.

The Harrodsburg Fair & Ploughing exhibition is better than the last year's, and will, we think, result in the death of the Gardner, and the triumph of the friends of the deceased, and the triumph of the Gardner.

On Monday, Mr. Jacobs, Superintendent of this benevolent institution, which is located at Danville, was introduced to the Kentucky Convention by Bishop Capers. He then proceeded to deliver the address of the Conference, and in a manner highly entertaining, he gave a statement of the history of the institution, and the progress of the cause of conducting the education of the Mutes of this institution. He had with him a number of his pupils, who sang full and satisfactory proof of the astonishing success in the education of these unfortunate children of the land. Several thrilling incidents occurred during the exhibition which made a lasting impression upon all present.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Louisville Annual Conference, at its present session in Owensboro, Ky.: Oct. 4, 1853. A. C. DENT, Sec'y.

Resolved, That this Conference has been deeply interested in the lecture and exhibition of Mr. Jacobs, Superintendent of the Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, located at Danville, Ky., and that we will take the greatest pleasure in recommending this institution throughout the bounds of the Conference.

The Danville Tribune comes to us dressed in a new suit. It now makes a very handsome appearance, and we wish Mr. Zimmerman, its gentlemanly conductor, great pecuniary success.

The Danville "Tribune" came to us last week in a new dress. We are glad to see this evidence of its prosperity, for it is a most excellent paper and has well earned its "new coat," and then there never was two better fellows than "Uncle Jack" and his son "Johnny."

DAVID THURMAN.—We have, for several weeks, omitted to do what we had fully intended, to notice the highly improved appearance of this good Whig paper. Our friend Zimmerman deserves the thanks of his numerous patrons for this effort of his, to furnish them with an additional amount of reading matter, and we cannot doubt that his list of subscribers will be largely increased. The paper is well printed, and its appearance is a credit to its enterprising proprietor.

CREW ORCHARD, Ky., Oct. 10, 1853. MESSRS. ZIMMERMAN & SON:

Gentlemen.—An impression has gone abroad that all stock and articles which have taken premiums hereabouts, at the different fairs held in Kentucky, are excluded from exhibiting at the Fair to be held and commencing at this place on the 26th inst. I am authorized to say to you, that such is not the fact. All persons who have taken premiums and certificates on stock and all other articles are at liberty to exhibit the same here. All those who have never taken premiums or certificates shall have an equal chance.

You will please give the above a place in your paper, and ever oblige,

Yours, &c., C. S. F.

Temperance in Lexington—Gov. Powell.

The Era of last week presents the condition of Lexington, as regards the use of intoxicating drinks, in a light which shows that the labors of the Temperance men have not been crowned with that success which they deserve.

The energetic editor of that paper intends, we infer from his leader, to bring out the causes of this failure to regenerate that city, and purge it of coffee-houses, saloons, and, indeed, has already done so in a general way, promising to become more specific hereafter. It seems that it will of an overwhelming majority has been disapproved by one of the "higher powers," who has exercised the pardoning privilege to such an extent that, of the numberless penalties imposed by the constituted authorities upon those who have violated the license law, not one has been inflicted. If this be true, (and we do not feel at liberty to question the evidence of the editor of the Era,) it is proper that the people, who placed such an individual in office, be advised of what we can but consider, not only an outrage upon them, but a violation of a high trust, and an abuse of power, which should consign any man to a political grave.

Why it is that the press of Lexington has not spoken of this subject, we do not know, is a matter of astonishment to us; for, when in Lexington a short time since, we heard it stated, over and over again, and never denied, that Governor Powell had not only rendered the anti-license law of no effect, by remitting every fine which had been inflicted upon the violators of it, but that he had personally told one of the Hotel keepers in Lexington to violate it, assuring him that he should not suffer for it. We hope the latter statement is not true, although all the facts tend to substantiate it; but if it is true, it is high time that measures were taken to prevent an man who is so ignorant of how to use the power entrusted to him, from further trampling upon the rights of those who placed him in a position he is so fully qualified to fill.

The Louisville Journal says that the Pierce administration succeeded in getting up many and as foreboding as it has got up in its own party at home, we shall undoubtedly have stirring times for the next three or four years. How the world would state at such a time between the United States and Russia as a right between the Old Husbands and the Rounders in New York!
